For President---1912
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT, OF OHIO.

THE NATIONAL BATTLE.

William Howard Taft and Theodore Roosevelt are clashing today in a battle royal at Chicago for supremacy. Both are desirous of becoming the choice of the party for the presidential nomination and to date neither has overlooked an opportunity to secure a vote. The situation has reached a stage, not where the best man will win, but where the man with the greatest number of delegates back of him will be declared the victor. Such is the American politics of today. It was also the politics of yesterday. The old slogan of to the victor belongs the spoils is being most carefully adhered to, notwithstanding the dissonant voices of the so-called progressives who acclaim Roosevelt as their leader.

In the clash that occurred today and will doubtlessly continue throughout the week, the entire nation is one gigantic audience. Even in far off China the people will sit far into the night to listen to the returns. The campaign of this year is something out of the ordinary, and thanks should be rendered that it is not a yearly occurrence. The situation has become so intense that the difficulties of presidential aspirants in the democratic ranks have been completely overlooked. Democrats have joined the republicans in expressing their choice of the two principal candidates and discussions as to the merits and demerits of the main actors in the national play, can be heard on every street corner and frequently in the middle of the block.

The fight is over as far as the people of the nation are concerned and all that remains is the delegates to cast their ballots and settle the dispute in the convention hall. Whether the deciding ballot will be arrived at today or a week from today remains to be seen. The fight is one that the sooner the hostilities are concluded the better for the peace of the nation.

GOOD ROADS AN ASSET.

The commissioners of Nye county should do all in their power to establish an auto road from Ely to this city, and every effort should be made to co-operate with the commissioners of White Pine county. A transcontinental automobile route running through Tonopah would bring hundreds of automobiles through this territory yearly. Revenue is derived from every party and the business men and tax payers would soon reap the benefit of the money expended.

Last year no less than a half dozen charts were compiled of transcontinental routes and the present year should witness the arrival of eastern motorists almost daily. It has been estimated that no less than a million automobiles will travel from New York to San Francisco in the year 1915 and with a good automobile road in existence between Ely and Tonopah and on to the coast, the greater number could be induced to come by this route. Good roads never acted to the detriment of any community and every cent possible should be expended in this wise by the commissioners, for the returns will be ten fold.

DEMOCRAT'S TURN NEXT.

No sooner will peace be declared in the republican party than the democrats will be in the thickest of the fray. The Baltimore convention is the next on the program and it is about time for the democratic leaders to issue statements regarding their majorities for certain presidential aspirants. No convention is complete unless the campaign managers of the respective aspirants for presidential honors issue several dozen official statements, declaring that their particular man will be selected by a overwhelming majority.

The knocker has no place in Tonopah, although the pessimist may be noted occasionally. The former species was banished from the district several years ago but the latter being managers to retain his residence through frequent disguises. Tonopah is about the only town in the state that does not boast of an anvil chorus.

The political tonsorial artist is quite busy just now. Just as soon as he completes trimming certain republican presidential possibilities, Clark, Wilson and Harmon will be next in line.

President Taft's record for accomplishing things is such that any party should gladly acclaim him as a leader—but what's the use. They won't read this in Chicago.

THOMAS DORSEY DESIRES A SIDE BET OF $1000

EAST AUBURN MAN WILL BRING TUG OF WAR TEAM HERE
FROM CALIFORNIA

Thomas Dorsey, a member of the Montana tug of war team that defeated the Slavonian team about a year ago, desires to wager $1000 that he can pick a team and win against any team in the west.

Dorsey is now located at East Auburn, Cal., and has been chosen captain of a tug of war team of that community. In a letter to the Bonanza, he states that if he is assured a side bet of $1000 he will bring a championship team to this city and enter into the contests during the Fourth of July celebration.

The question will be taken up at a meeting of the general Fourth of July committee this evening and if a sufficient number of teams appear ready to signify their intentions to enter the contest, the fact will be communicated to Dorsey, who will also be informed of the amount of the prize to be offered the winning team.

POPULAR PLACE TO SECURE GROCERIES

Fresh shipments of green stuffs are received daily which assures the customers receiving goods in the best of condition. Groceries and hardware are received in carload shipment which insures the lowest price for the purchaser.

The open air concert last evening given by the Tonopah military band on Main street was listened to and enjoyed by a huge crowd. The concerts will be a regular weekly feature during the summer as a subscription has been taken to repay the members of the band for their trouble.

It is the intention of A. W. Carl, the conductor of the band, to present an entire new program of concert music every Sunday evening.
